Overview:"The best house is not the largest, but the one that receives you and makes you feel good instantly", a phrase that summarizes the feeling that I took from this house in La Quinta, located in a privileged area surrounded by nature with no neighbors close and with spectacular views, it has a swimming pool and a chill out area with a Balinese bed to enjoy the sunset. Discover this house and fall in love! You will especially like this house for: You don't pay community fee. Its location: just 3 minutes drive from San Pedro, and just a few minutes drive from Marbella or Puerto Banús. It is a discreet and quiet street that allows a lot of privacy. The house is built on one floor on a 1,366 m2 plot. It has a privileged orientation since it is located in the upper part of the urbanization. It has a garage and a large parking area. You can also move now or you can expand it by building a second floor. It is also an opportunity for investors due to the privileged situation of the plot.
