Located in zone K, a green and quiet area in the valley of Monte Mayor, the design is fully integrated into nature. The design and floor plans are the result of an extensive conceptual study. Each interior and exterior space is designed for the environment and the best views. Each villa meets an absolute standard of excellence in engineering, materials and craftsmanship. Guided by avant-garde and sustainable design principles, the project adapts to the natural environment, integrating indoor and outdoor spaces and engaging people with their surroundings. The villas have a limited footprint on the natural environment and feature green roofs, solar energy and native drought-tolerant gardens.
